Geo. Becker challenges anybody to show better beer than that produced at the Pacific Brewery. Its reputation is so great that the brewery is kept constantly at work to supply the demand. It is palatable, invigorating and pure.

Death of Philip Boody.

The annexed are the latest quotations of stocks yesterday afternoon:

A Reception to Cassidy.

Representative G. W. Cassidy was met at Ogden, on his way East, by delegations from Salt Lake City, Ogden and Park City, among whom was Governor Murray and other distinguished citizens of Utah, by whom he was abducted. The captured Congressman was taken to a hotel, where the captors and captive breakfasted; after which he was conducted to Salt Lake City on a special train, where a reception was given him at the Walker House. He was released from the custody of his captors Sunday and is doubtless now speeding his way on the Union Pacific Railroad toward Washington.

The Novella Quartette.

This colored quartette club of jubilee singers will sing at the Nevada Theater this evening and render some of the finest selections of Southern melodies ever heard in town. Admission, 50 cents; children, half price; reserved seats, 75 cents. Doors open at 7:30, concert commences at eight. The quartette entertained the Winnemuccas on Sunday. What they did and how they did it is told by the Silver State in the annexed:

The colored quartette traveling under the above name gave a concert in Central Hall last evening. There was a large audience and the singing was all that could be desired. The selection of camp meeting hymns and plantation melodies was varied and sung in that quaint, inimitable style peculiar to the colored people. The voices were equal to the best of the celebrated jubilee singers who created a sensation on this coast some years ago. The audience manifested its delight by enthusiastic applause at the close of each piece, and all felt that they had received the full value of the price of admission.

New Patents.

Dewey & Co.'s Scientific Press Patent Agency, San Francisco, Cal., has official reports of the following U. S. patents, issued Nov. 12, 1882:

Hannah Branch, North San Juan, Cal., cough remedy; A. T. Dewey S. F., newspaper file holder and binder; M. H. Dorgan, S. F., ventilator; Goll and Spinner, S. F., preparing baker's yeast; C. J. Gustafson, Salt Lake City, U. T., hopper; W. P. Hammond, Napa, Cal., ore crusher; E. M. Hobbs, Santa Rosa, Cal., car coupling; W. H. Leininger, Salem, Or., amalgamator; P. Plant, S. F., cork swimming suit; Geo. W. Wills, East Portland, Or., crosscut saw; Chas. A. Wyman, San Jose, Cal., gate.

A Noted Change.

John Belz, one of Reno's most noted tonsorial artist will shortly remove from the Wine House to Hamersmith's old stand. Johnny will rent the entire establishment, and oilcloth the whole place, so as to make it the most attractive shop in Reno. When it comes to artistic work, handsome fixtures and surroundings, together with gentlemanly manipulation and treatment, Johnny will always be found in the lead. Give him a call in his new quarters and you will ascertain the truthfulness of this assertion.

Homestead Patents.

The U. S. Land Office in Carson city received the following Homestead Patents on November 30th, viz:

No. 126..... Noah Greenwood
No. 133..... John R. Schulz
No. 134..... Frank Rivers
No. 135..... Nathias Schmith
No. 136..... Benj. Howard
No. 137..... Robert Lamb
No. 138..... Samuel B. P. Pierce
No. 140..... John C. Hinds
The above patents will be delivered on surrender of the Receiver's duplicate receipts therefor.

Grasshopper Item.

Mr. Allen Tremble, of Beckwirth, Sierra Valley, reports that grasshopper eggs are not as plentiful this fall as they were last. They deposited large quantities of eggs in his fields, and he began to feel discouraged, but large numbers of birds fed on them, nearly cleaning them out. Then, too, the warm weather of October hatched out many, which have since been killed by the storm. Mr. Tremble thinks the prospects are good for a respite from the ravages of the plague next year.

Keep the Horses Warm.

People who considered it cruel to clip horses at the beginning of the winter do not understand the science of the thing. The veterinary surgeon editor of the Carson Appeal says "when the horse's hair is long the perspiration on any moisture which collects freezes on the hair and chills the horse. When the coat is clipped the heat of the body keeps the skin dry and no ice forms. It is a mercy to the horse to clip it at this season."

A Holiday Sensation.

The ladies always keep a sharp eye out for the announcement of S. M. Jamison & Co. There is a special announcement in the JOURNAL to-day of a grand opening of holiday goods at this famous establishment. It will be read with great interest by the fair half of the community. Prices are very low at Jamison & Co's.

The motion for a new trial in the Brown-Evans case was argued before Judge Sabin yesterday, at Carson.

The Transit of Venus.

To-morrow morning the transit of Venus occurs, and as none of the present generation will ever witness another, unless by some special dispensation of Providence, our lives should be extended to the year 2004, it will be well for us to get our telescopes and smoked glasses into condition. The planet will be well along on its journey across the Sun's disc by the time Old Sol rises, and those desirous to see the celestial circus should be up on time. The solution of the sublimest problem known to science is to be attempted on the occasion, another opportunity for which will not occur for 122 years. Millions of dollars and months of valuable time have been expended in preparation for this great event.

Homicide.

J. H. Wildey, a section boss of the Central Pacific, shot and killed a farmer near Carlin day before yesterday. Wildey was out gunning and shot a snipe. The small boy of the man killed picked it up. A few words ensued, when the boy rushed into his father's house. In a second the old man appeared with a shotgun in his hands, and pointed it at Wildey, who immediately pulled the trigger of his own gun, and shot the farmer twice, killing him. The farmer, it is said, was under the influence of liquor. His name is unknown to the JOURNAL's informant.

Hard Up for a Drink.

The Sierra Valley Leader chronicles this plundering act:

Last Friday night, at Antelope station, the present terminus of the N. & O. R. R., a burglary was committed in the following ingenious manner: It seems that among the freight stored in the depot was a barrel of whisky, and some thirsty individual got under the building, and finding a crack under the door, procured some blunt pointed instrument and pounded away at the bottom of the whisky barrel until a hole was made in it. When he had secured enough of the liquor to satisfy him, he carefully plugged up the hole. It is supposed that the deed was committed by Indians, as a number of drunken ones were seen around the next day.

Removal.

Johnny Belz, the prince of tonsorial artists will, on December 11th, remove his establishment from the Wine House to stand formerly occupied by N. Hamersmith, one door west of the Arcade Hotel. Everything will be renovated. The fixtures and hangings will be of the highest style and a fine oilcloth adorn the floor. Johnny has always been noted for his attention to customers and his new establishment will eclipse in beauty, not only the old, but every others shop in town. Give him a call and see what a palace of tonsorial beauty he has erected.

Suffering from functional derangements or any of the painful disorders or weaknesses incident to their sex, Dr. Price's treatise, illustrated with wood-cuts and colored plates, suggests sure means of complete self-cure.
